The BBC answered over 10,000 complaints from the audience during June 2008. These ranged from a small number of complaints about potentially serious breaches of editorial guidelines through to a much larger collection of views about programme content and scheduling. The key themes which emerged are as follows:

Scheduling

Wimbledon 2008 prompted complaints about scheduling, where people were unhappy with other programmes being shown later than billed or not being shown at all.

Technical

We received a number of complaints about the interruption of the Euro 2008 match between Germany and Turkey on 25th June which occurred as a result of a technical fault.

Saturation / Insufficient Coverage

Complaints were received with regard to Euro 2008, where people felt there was too much coverage of the tournament.

Standards Of Interviewing and Presentation

Commentary for Wimbledon 2008 prompted some viewers to complain about particular presenters talking excessively, particularly during play.

Inappropriate Guest

Question Time tx 26 June attracted some viewers to complain of a poor choice of panellist.
